

Homeopathy in Modern Disease: cases from a busy Indian practice

With Dr Pawan Pareek BHMS, MD (HOM)

Saturday 21 / Sunday 22 April 2018
Liverpool, Britannia Adelphi Hotel

This is the second time we welcome Dr Pareek to Liverpool. A few years ago he impressed us with his methodically taken and managed evidence-based cases, the variety of problems, pathologies and his extensive knowledge of the Materia Medica.

This time we will see cases of cancer, high blood pressure, strokes, obesity and diabetes, IBS, ulcerative colitis, pathologies that are currently very topical. Dr Pareek will show us how to manage difficult cases over time and how to take the case. He will include tips, differential diagnosis of remedies, potency selection and repetition of remedy.

Dr Pareek says: 'I am giving seminars for many years, I know students, new homeopaths and even experienced homeopaths will love it, nobody sleeps!'

Dr Pareek is friendly and approachable and he knows how to simplify even the most difficult of cases.

Dr Pareek has been a homeopath for over 25 years now, keeping a very busy practice and seeing over a hundred patients a day in Agra, India.

He does not hesitate to treat heavy pathologies, including neurological conditions, cancer cases, liver and renal failure patients mostly successfully. Dr Pareek's cases are backed up by evidence before and after treatment.

He teaches extensively in India, Germany, Hungary, France, Greece, Malaysia, USA and Australia.

He researches cases of cancer, AIDS, surgical cases and other diseases considered incurable. His articles are published in professional magazines. Once a year he trains homeopaths from abroad in his busy clinic.
